

Dear Friends,

May we be aware of the wonder of God's amazing creation each and every day

“Lift up your eyes to the sky and see for yourself. Who do you think created the cosmos? He lit every shining star and formed every glowing galaxy and stationed them all where they belong. He has numbered, counted, and given everyone a name. They shine because of God's incredible power and awesome might; not one fails to appear!” Isaiah 40:26 TPT

As we look at the night sky let us thank God for the wonders of his creation.

Let us stop, look and listen – stop and look at the beauty around us – stop and see the ants scurrying around as rain approaches - stop and smell the roses – stop and listen to the sounds of God's creation – the birds with their songs of praise in the mornings and evenings, the cicadas, and other insects that call in the night – stop and hear the laughter of children In Isaiah we read “lift up your eyes, (I might add here open your ears) – and see and hear for yourself”

A prayer for today:

May the God who created everything and faithfully loves and cares for us, be our guide, our comfort, and our wonderful and faithful creator, today and in the days that lie ahead. Amen

The following is a song we learnt when we were children, it may be a slightly different version but beautiful nevertheless.

All things bright and beautiful,
All creatures great and small,
All things wise and wonderful,
The Lord God made them all.

Each little flower that opens,
Each little bird that sings,
He made their glowing colours,
He made their tiny wings.

All things bright and beautiful,
All creatures great and small,
All things wise and wonderful,
The Lord God made them all

The purple-headed mountain,
The river running by,
The sunset and the morning,
That brightens up the sky;

The cold wind in the winter,
The pleasant summer sun,
The ripe fruits in the garden,
He made them every one;

All things bright and beautiful,
All creatures great and small,
All things wise and wonderful,
The Lord God made them all

He gave us eyes to see them,
And lips that we might tell
How great is God Almighty,
Who has made all things well.

All things bright and beautiful,
All creatures great and small,
All things wise and wonderful,
The Lord God made them all.
